DEATH SCENE — Isham's Springs, also known as Hansen's Pond, was the site of the drowning Sunday of a 14-year-old El Cajon youth. The body of water feeds into Sweetwater Lake.

El Cajon Youth Drowns Here

A 14-year old boy, James Loftis of El Cajon, drowned in Isham Springs in eastern Spring Valley on Sunday afternoon.

Efforts of county lifeguards and the Spring Valley Fire Department to recover the body were futile. The search covered four hours. He went under at about 1:45 p.m.

The tragedy happened after the boy's father, James O. Loftis, had taken James, the other Loftis sons and a neighbor boy to the springs on an outing.

During the outing the Loftis youngsters and eight other boys climbed aboard a raft made of logs and boards. The weight of the boys caused the raft to start sinking.

James and his brother, John, dove off and started to swim to shore about 20 feet away. Then James began to go under and John grabbed him, but couldn't hold on.

James sank into 20 feet of water.

Spring Valley Fire Chief Frank Berger said he believes there have been three drownings in the springs in the past three years.

Deputy Sheriff John Swink, who has patrolled Spring Valley at various times, said as far as he recalls, there have been no recent drowning in Isham Springs. Last year, a stolen car was pulled from the waters. Deputy Swink said signs have been posted on the property many times, but some person or persons have taken them away.

He said youngsters and adults have been run off the property many times, but the next day they have returned. Citations have been issued at the request of the owner, Swink said, but that stopped eventually. There is easy access to the springs; there being a dirt road to the property and no fence around the springs.

Isham Springs, also known as Hansen's Pond, has been in the news at various times, as it has played a significent part in Spring Valley's history.

At the turn of the century it was discovered the water had healthful properties. The water was bottled and sent to Europe. At that time a spur railroad track was laid to the springs for cars to pick up the bottled water. The springs are fed by an underground river, its source being undetermined. The overflow of the springs empties into Sweetwater Lake.

Double Taxation To End For Local Water District

By Kathy Galloway

An area which now pays water taxes to both San Diego and Otay districts will soon have its problem solved.

The double-taxed land is located on 835 acres north of Sweetwater River and the South Bay Expressway, and west of Sweetwater Dam.

San Diego County's Local Agency Formation Commission has approved the detachment of this area from the Otay district.

A public hearing Sept. 12 at 1:30 p.m. at the district offices, 10595 Jamacha Blvd., Spring Valley, will be held to allow property owners to protest the action. The hearing is required by law, and no objections to the change are expected by Harry T. Baker, general manager of the Otay and La Presa water districts.

This area was originally a part of the Otay district when it was formed in 1956. As the land became more populated, it was annexed to San Diego in order to obtain city services.

This move is possible under recently enacted legislation, the District Reorganization Act of 1965.

Another 3,000 acres near Brown Field is in the same double-district situation as the land west of Sweetwater Dam. The Brown Field area is farmland supplied by city water, and no move has been made to detach it from either district.

You're A Cinch To Win - - If You Subscribe

There's something new added to the "goodies" that we list for lucky readers of our want-ads.

For a limited time, a free beauty treatment consisting of a facial and a massage will be given to a woman each week.

The service is being provided by the Slimette Salon, at 6935 North Ave. in Lemon Grove. Miss Pat Cowan is the operator in charge. Names of our subscribers are picked at random each week and these are the lucky winners.

In addition to the beautification offer there are six tender, delicious T-bone steaks given each week by Curley Marso, operator of Valley Farm Market at 9040 Campo Rd. at Bancroft. Three steaks will be given to each of two families — if their names appear in the want-ads.

Four Chicken-A-Go dinners are given weekly by the Chicken-A-Go center at 2605 Imperial.

One hour of billiards and three games of bowling are given each week by Brunswick Bowlero at Broadway and North.

And finally, two families each get two dinners at Sir George's Smorgasbord in El Cajon when their names appear in the want-ads. The only qualification is that the person be a subscriber.

We try to use the name of at least one new subscriber in the winning list each week. Get your neighbor to sign up now and maybe she'll be the winner the next edition. And she'll always be ahead of local doings by reading the local newspaper.

BAD NEWS FOR HOMEOWNERS

Sewer Tax Rate To Spurt Higher

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — Tax rate increases in the Lemon Grove, Rolando and Spring Valley Sanitation Districts have been predicted by Chief Administrative Officer T. M. Heggland.

Final 1966-67 budgets for the districts have been approved by the Board of Supervisors acting as district directors.

In Lemon Grove the rate per $100 of assessed valuation is expected to go up 7.8 cents to 45.6 cents or about 17%. Lemon Grove will have an operating fund of $125,135. Of this, $48,000 will go to the Metropolitan Sewer System.

The Rolando rate increase is predicted at 9.4 cents at $.471 for an operating fund of $18,340. Metropolitan will be $9,600 of this fund.

The Spring Valley increase is predicted at 6 cents to $.276 or about 20%. The operating fund will be $105,000, all of which goes to Metropolitan. The sewer maintenance and operation fund will be $109,785.

The Spring Valley district, unlike the other two, charges a sewer service fee, that reduces the property tax.

San Diego County Leads In Taxable Sales Increase

Despite heavy Christmas buying and social security taxes, Californians spent $544 million more during January, February and March for taxable goods than in those months a year ago.

Richard Nevins, Southern California Member of the State Board of Equalization, which administers the 4 per cent sales and use tax, today credited record employment for the increase.

Retail sales in San Diego County totaled $363,915 in the first three months for a 12 per cent gain.

Taxable sales in the state reached $7.7 billion in the first quarter, 7½ per cent above the same period a year ago.

Women's apparel stores reported a 16 per cent jump in sales for the period and jewelers reported a 22 per cent gain.

All but five types of retail business showed first quarter increases in taxable sales.

The County led the urban counties' increase with nearly 12 per cent, followed by Contra Costa at 11 per cent. The 10 Southern California counties, with a 6.6 per cent gain, were a percentage point above the nine Bay Area counties' increase.

New auto dealers, who account for 13 per cent of all transactions under the sales tax, showed only a fractional gain. Used car dealers' sales were off 3 per cent.

Nevins reported that the Board collected $78 million as the cities' and counties' share of the sales and use tax in the first quarter.

Another $236 million in revenue went to the State.

Equipment leasing and private party sales of autos, boats, trailers and airplanes, taxable under 1965 legislation, amounted to a total of $185 million for the three months.

The Board estimated $2 billion was spent in the first quarter for tax-exempt food, gasoline and prescription drugs.

The DIMMER VIEW

by MAX GOODWIN

Charity and the Daily Double

As everyone knows, horse racing is conducted for bettering the breed although my private encyclopedia does not explain whether it refers to breeding of horses or breeding more bettors.

With that much light on the situation, we tried to familiarize ourselves with the giddy-ups and whoas of the Del Mar race track lease which is up for grabs.

The track is now operated by Boys Inc. as a non-profit organization. A group of Texas oil-rich millionaires, which includes Clint Murchison and the late Sid Richardsn, took over the track lease several years ago after a betting debacle resulted from a winning horse being disqualified in the Mar Debutante Stakes several months after the race was held.

The second horse was then proclaimed the winner, but who saves tickets on a loser? Part of the penalty for the racing misconduct by which the winner was disqualified, was the cancellation of the track lease which was then held by a group of Angelenos.

Texas money then filled the void and part of the profit was earmarked for charity under a newly formed "non-profit" corporation.

Recently, the law was changed making it illegal for tracks to operate under a non-profit canopy, possibly because charity was the part of the operation enjoying little of the profits.

The Texas tribe knows their lease, which expires in 1970, cannot be renewed, so they are trying to peddle the last three years of it. The new leaseholder, presumably, will have an edge in getting a 20-year lease when the present one expires.

A vocal group in San Diego believes the profit from the track, about $500,000 a year, should remain in the county. This can best be done by having a county group operate the track with the profit earmarked for the use of the people.

The group is COMBO, representatives of the cultural groups of San Diego County. Unfortunately, in this case at least, it, too, is non-profit but they are setting about to get the law changed.

The group's argument is sound. Hire professional race track people to run the show and let profits be used for the good of the people in the county in which the races are held.

When the present contract expires, let all interests bid on the lease through the 22nd. Agricultural District Board. The Fair Board, responsible for leasing the track should then consider what operation will best serve the people. By that time COMBO expects to have the non-profit aspects of the law rescinded.

Already in the new bidding are the Hollywood Race Track fellows; Caliente Race Track interests, and other well-heeled groups.

COMBO people are circulating a Petition of Support which prays the governor to likewise consider the people of the county. Several hundred thousand signatures will be presented when the registration roll is completed early next month.

The governor, through the Democratic County Central Committee, has hand picked the members of the Fair Board so it is safe to assume that the Fair Board will follow the governor's request for the lessee. It is just as safe to assume that the governor's request will be based on political expediency.

Thus, the pressures on the governor for resolution are great. COMBO wants the decision to come before the November elections so that any political favor will be remembered at the polls. A truckload of signatures, together with Governor Brown's

Flood Bill Will Open 4,300 Acres In San Diego

A bill introduced by Rep. Lionel Van Deerlin (D-S.D.) for the purpose of building an international flood control project on the Tia Juana river near San Diego will come up for a House vote Monday.

The measure authorizes an agreement with Mexico under the Treaty of Feb. 3, 1944, and provides a maximum of $14,540,000 in federal moneys for the flood project. The City of San Diego has agreed to pay $4,190,000 toward the total federal cost.

The Tia Juana River lies in a two-mile wide flood plain. Although dry for long periods, it can discharge high floods up to 135,000 cubic feet a second. Until the river is controlled, Van Deerlin has pointed out, there can be no urban development in the valley lands in any of the cities through which the river flows, except at the risk of serious flood damages.

San Diego City officials have estimated that the flood control project will open 4,300 acres for development.

The river channel on the U. S. side would be five miles long. It will begin one mile west of the San Ysidro border gate, run parallel to the border to Ream Field, and then divert into the Pacific near Imperial Beach.

The U. S. Army Corps of Engineers has recommended construction of the channel for several years. The plan also has been approved by the International Boundary and Water Commission, composed of delegates from Mexico and the United States.

Supervisors Cool To Drainage Squawk In Brookside Area

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — The County Board of Supervisors made it clear to a group of property owners in Brookside that it thinks the constant drainage problem on Par Dr. is a local problem that taxpayers of the entire county should not have to pay to solve.

The board did not, however, take a formal vote on this point but did instruct the health department to run another test on the ground water to see if pollution is present from human sources.

County Health Director J. B. Askew had already reported that there are no detergents in the water. This is considered a quick test.

Leader of those who think the county should pay for the solution to the drainage problem was Henry Easter, a plumber of 3302 Par Dr. He said he thinks much of the problem came from the widening and relocation of Sweetwater Rd. The extra three acres of blacktop with swift drainage does it, he said.

Road Commissioner David Speer said a rough estimate of the cost of putting the drainage from the seeping spring in the area would be about $25,000. He said the water was there before there was even a subdivision.

Easter also complained about the water standing in Par Dr. He said it ruins the street and that not long ago a neighbor's car had to be pulled out of a hole in the street.

Second District Supervisor Henry Boney said that maybe the county had a responsibility to see that the street did not run curb to curb with water during rains. He was answered by Supervisor Robert Cozens who said he could show Boney any number of roads that run curb to curb in heavy weather.

Easter also disputed Askew's report that no detergents were found in the water and it was this that led the board to take what little action they did. It was fairly obvious early in the long hearing that the board was not going to honor the wishes of the residents.

Harry Griffen of the Helix Irrigation District has been awarded a 10-year pin for service to the San Diego County Water Authority.

Griffen is one of the SDCWA board's directors.

LG Teacher Sues After Operation

SAN DIEGO (CNS)—A Lemon Grove school teacher, Mrs. Betty Arney, has filed suit for $15,000 for personal injury against Mt. Helix General Hospital and two doctors in Superior Court.

Mrs. Arney's suit filed Tuesday alleges that Drs. L. J. Crow and D. L. Faucett so negligently performed surgery at the hospital last January that additional surgery was required in March.

Her petition also seeks reimbursement of loss of earnings as a teacher.

The UPPER ROOM

Read John 21:3-14

None of the disciples dared to ask "Who are you?" They knew it was the Lord. (John 21:12, NEB)

As evening approached, the disciples wished to send home the crowds that had been listening to Jesus. The Master's surprising reply was "They need not go away; you give them something to eat." The disciples replied, "We have only five loaves here and two fish." Bring them here to me," Jesus said Thereupon He ordered the multitude to sit on the grass, and He fed them.

In an incident following the resurrection of Jesus, He made an impression on the disciples. After they had fished all night and caught nothing, Jesus appeared among them without His identity being known. He instructed them to cast their net on the other side of the boat. The catch was astonishing. They did not need to ask Him who He was; they knew it was the Lord.

These miracles remind us that if we obey the Lord's commands and offer what we can in His service, He blessed the work of our hands and increases its usefulness for God' glory.

Prayer: Our Father, forgive us when we refrain from serving Thee because we think our service is of little value. Help us to realize that what we offer to Thee in simple faith, Thou wilt use increasingly for Thy glory. In Jesus name. Amen.

Thought for the day: Our Christian faith determines our conduct.

Clergy Help Sought For Respiratory Ailments

Ways and means by which the clergy may help members of their congregations suffering with respiratory diseases will be sought, next Fall, at an institute sponsored by the Tuberculosis & Health Assn. of San Diego County.

"This is important," Dr. Robert Rosen, Lemon Grove-Spring Valley area chairman of the Christmas Seal agency, said "because many individuals suffer chronic upper respiratory diseases in silence when, in fact, they should be receiving treatment."

"Since the clergyman has a personal interest in the welfare of members of his church or temple, we feel many individuals would be benefitted if churchmen were to be acquainted with the facts about RD and medical and family assistance resources available in the community," he said.

A sub-committee, headed by Arthur A. Maes, chief of the social work section of the Veterans Administration out-patient clinic has been appointed to plan the institute.

On it are representatives of churches and temples of all faiths and the San Diego Family Service Assn., Episcopal Community Service, Economic Opportunity Commission, American Red Cross, Jewish Family Service, San Diego State College psychology department, the San Diego Association of Clinical Physchologists, Community Welfare Council, National Association of Social Workers, Pastoral Counseling Center, Catholic Family Service, Salvation Army Men's Rehabilitation Center and Family Service Dept., the Catholic Diocese of San Diego, and the California Social Workers Organization.

The Model Prayer

Our Lord gave us definite instruction on the subject of prayer. We call it the "Lord's Prayer." "I will therefore that men pray everywhere"; "the effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much." The church built the whole practice of the Christian life around regular prayer. The Apostles accepted it.

Jehovah's Witnesses Leave For Convention

Members of the Spring Valley Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses are leaving this week for a five-day convention at Candlestick Park in San Francisco, Aug. 3-7.

The majority of the religious group will join thousands of other delegates who are coming from all 50 states.

Edgar A. Flinn, presiding minister of the Spring Valley Congregation, said that, "all meetings of the local congregations in the western states are expected to have representatives in San Francisco. In most cases, the entire congregations will go," Mr. Flinn stated, "which will require suspension of our local services for the next two weeks."

Flinn said 3,000 volunteers in the Bay Area spent thousands of hours searching for rooming accomodations for delegates in private homes. Thousands of delegates will be placed through the convention rooming department. Other volunteers are staffing infomration booths to provide conventioners in relation to the convention site.

"For thousands of the delegates it will be their first trip to San Francisco," Mr. Flinn said, "and members of the Bay Area congregations of Jehovah's witnesses will do everything possible to make our visit comfortable. This helps a great deal," he said.

"Thousands of cars are flooding the highways this week," he said, "equipped with bumper signs reading, 'Jehovah's Witnesses, Candlestick Park Assembly, San Francisco,' We have looked forward to this convention for many months, and we are anticipating a program that will instill within us a deeper appreciation for our Christian responsibilities," he concluded.

'Kiss Me, Kate' Opens Tonight At Starlight

"Kiss Me, Kate", Starlight's second musical comedy of the season, opens tonight in Balboa Bowl. Curtain time is 8:30. Performances are Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights next week and the week following.

Following a successful two-week run of Rodgers and Hammerstein's "Flower Drum Song", the Cole Porter musical is a glimpse inside the hectic lives of actors and actresses. Bob Howard (Fred Graham) and Beverly Burnham (Lilli Vanessi) star as the recently divorced couple who are paired as the leads in a touring revival of Shakespeare's "The Taming of the Shrew." Fred is still in love with his ex-wife and she in love with him, although she doesn't realize this until Fred begins flirting with a supporting actress in the show — Lois Lane (Marilu Nordon).

The situation gets worse when Fred and Lilli carry their back-stage bickering to their onstage performance as the tamer and the shrew. When Lilli decides to walk out on the show and her ex-hubby, a couple of debt-collecting gunmen (Kel Aiken and Al Sklar) help her change her mind.

"Kiss Me, Kate", directed by Dr. William J. Adams, is filled with such Cole Porter song classics as "Wunderbar", "So in Love", "Always True to You in My Fashion" and "Bianca".

Others in the cast will be Renne Hobbs as Hattie, Bill Talbot as Bill Calhoun, Bill Richardson, Roland MacFarland and Phil Mathews.

"Kiss Me, Kate", which runs for eight performances through Aug. 7, will be followed by two more hit Starlight musicals — "Tom Sawyer" Aug. 11 through 21, and "South Pacific" Sept. 1 through 11.

Autos Checked For Smog Devices

Governor Edmund G. Brown has announced that the state is spotchecking 1966 model automobiles in a smog control device surveillance program of the State Motor Vehicle Pollution Control Board.

State-approved exhaust controls are now on approximately 700,000 California vehicles. These are preventing an estimated 90,000 gallons of unburned gasoline from entering the atmosphere every day.

Crankcase devices, which have been on California cars since 1961, are eliminating an additional 350,000 gallons of smog-producing fumes every day.

Man Gets Best Birthday Present – His Family

Nick Cesena, of 7672 North Ave., Lemon Grove, has finally been united with his family.

Cesena, a bulldozer contractor, was married to Maria Diaz of Tijuana in August, 1949. But he was unable to get her and their four children into the United States.

The couple were married in Yuma and the new Mrs. Cesena, lacking citizenship, had to live south of the border.

During the seventeen years Cesena lived in Tijuana intermittently. Then came the children.

First came Maria de los Angeles. Then came Havier, then Tereza, and finally Norma. Norma is seven. Maria is seventeen.

Recently after all these years, the immigration people told Nick his family could come across the border as American citizens.

In August, on the thirteenth, the family will help Nick celebrate his birthday. He is 73rd.

Rodeos Blasted By State Humane Group

"Rodeos are cruel, immoral and should be outlawed."

This was the announcement issued by the California Branch of the Humane Society of the United States, the largest state wide organization in the Nation dedicated to the prevention of cruelties to animals.

"We realize that this is an attack against a multi-million dollar industry," explained Belton P. Mouras, executive director of the organization, "and that we may even lose the support of some of our members, who with friends and close associates, represent voices nearly a million strong among Californians today."

The HSUS official pointed out however, that it has long been the national policy of the organization to condemn and fight against cruelties wherever they exist" — and rodeos, since they began as a clean wholesome tradition of the Old West, have become more and more cruel for the thrill of unknowing fans and for the fabulous profits of the sponsors."

Mouras emphasized the fact that the average rodeo fan and the general public does not know what goes on behind the scenes of a rodeo.

"Electric-shock prods, saddle burrs, spurs that tear into the flesh, are just a few of the tricks used in rodeos to make an animal feel he is fighting for his life," Mouras said

"More cruelties each year to break new records — the more cruelties — the more thrills — the more gate receipts — and they are fighting for their very lives, because if they don't perform they go to slaughter. If they do, they come back the next rodeo season for more torture. It is not only survival of the fittest — it is the torture of the fittest."

A new pamphlet entitled "Rodeo, Sport for the Cruel" explaining the Humane Society's stand against rodeos and how they can be "cleaned up" may be obtained free by writing to the HSUS, California Branch 2015 Jay St., Sacramento, Calif.

Stolen Gasoline Brings Arrest

Two Lemon Grove men were arrested Saturday morning on charges of petty theft.

Jerry Lee Eaton, 22, of 2421 Bonita, and Colin Winston Otway, 21, of 1906 Main St., were apprehended by Sheriff's deputies at 5:45 a.m. Saturday after James Meade of El Cajon reported someone siphoning gas from his car, which was parked at Fairway and Broadway.

The deputies arrived on the scene, and according to the report, observed the suspects next to the victim's car with a siphon hose and gas can.

Most children have a natural inclination toward good telephone usage. They answer politely, take messages correctly, call you to the phone quickly—and do not use the telephone as a toy. This pays off for parents, too . . . in compliments from friends who have talked with your children, in the valuable training that the children receive, and in getting your own incoming messages correct.

RAMBLIN'

WITH ED LOOP

Recently, one of our customers came in and announced that they had just ten minutes to spare, so would we be kind enough to set them up a complete set of books for accounting purposes; journals, ledgers, payroll system etc. We did it in just under two hours which we consider something of a record. He was disappointed, however, when we couldn't spend another two hours teaching him bookkeeping procedures. We suggested an accountant and he went away happy.

After this weekend when we have finished our annual inventory we should have a table full of BARGAIN STUFF; we always find all kinds of things during inventory. Don't forget Grove Office Supply located at 7890 Broadway in Lemon Grove; call us for prices and good service at 463-4494.

LG Racing Team To Try For No. 3

The Lemon Grove racing team of Travis-Killela will try for its third straight Number One Top Eliminator win at San Diego Dragway in Ramona Saturday night.

The Travis-Killela dragster "Superstition", piloted by Larry Reed, outdueled Coffin-Hardman's dragster last week for its second victory in a row.

Reed drove "Superstition" to marks of 173.92 miles per hour and an elapsed time of 8.52 seconds.

An added attraction to this week's program will be the appearance of "The Joker", a 408-cubic inch Chrysler-powered injected fueler. "The Joker" won the Riverside Hot Rod meet last year with an e.t. of 7.62 and top mph of 205.03.

Funds Needed For Wrestlers

The La Mesa Wrestling Association is in need of funds in order to charter buses to carry the team members to several tournaments in the near future, including one Saturday in Pasadena.

Coach Bill Clauder said the Association is contacting businessmen and merchants along with interested persons in this area for sponsoring donations as "many of the team members are from Spring Valley and Lemon Grove."

Registration Open For Swim Lessons

Registrations are now being accepted for the San Diego Recreation Department's final two sessions of swimming lessons during summer vacation, first of which will start on Aug. 2. Final session opens Aug. 23.

Parents must register children in person at the Mission Beach Plunge or at the Bud Kearns Pool in Balboa Park.

Lessons are also available for adults and for intermediates and advanced as well as beginning swimmers.

The Department's Aquatics Division also announced that openings still exist in the mornings for the sailing instruction program's second session.

Resting helps make traveling more enjoyable. Plan every trip so you won't have to force yourself or your car, says the Allstate Motor Club. Take time to stop, stretch, rest and have a snack. You'll be more alert, more relaxed and more comfortable. Enjoy your trip, and don't arrive exhausted.

Reflections Of Washington

By Mike Kreger

(Editor's note: This column is written by a 16-year-old Mount Miguel High School senior, Mike Kreger. He was selected recently to spend two weeks in Washington D. C. as a guest of Congressman Lionel Van Deerlin. Following is the last of a series on his experiences in the nation's capital.)

A lifetime full of memories has been packed into the last two weeks. These 14 days may have been the best of my life, and I will always thank the many wonderful people who have made this possible for me.

The week since I last wrote has indeed been exciting. On July 17 we went up the Potomac to historic and beautiful Mount Vernon. The home, plantation, and grounds are maintained just as they were during the years George Washington and his family lived there.

Tuesday we returned from the fantasy of the past to the reality of the present. In the morning, with some special assistance from Congressman Van Deerlin, we attended the Senate Ethics committee investigation of the Dodd case. Of special interest at the session was the testimony of Julius Klein, a registered West German agent and a key witness.

After lunch, we sat in on Senator Everett Dirksen's weekly press conference. The Senator has always been a favorite of mine and it was quite a thrill to see him in action. Tuesday night was the evening of the reception given by the Chinese embassy for the congressional interns staying in Washington. The food and entertainment, including a fashion show and a scene from a Chinese opera, were magnificent.

Wednesday we took a special tour of the White House. In the afternoon we finally made it to the Smithsonian Institute. We had all day, but one building alone, the Natural History building, had so much to offer that we had to postpone the other six departments until another day. The Calypso excitement of Harry Belafonte was Wednesday evening's entertainment.

Thursday we had our pictures taken with the Congressman, and in the afternoon I met with a close friend, Wilfreid Hulselmann from Germany. Wilfreid and Italo Ferrarini from Italy were Mt. Miguel's two foreign exchange students this past year.

Friday we worked (for a change) in the morning. In the afternoon, we packed a bag and boarded a bus; our destination — New York City. We spent Friday night, all of Saturday, and most of Sunday in the big city. There is so much happening in that town, it's impossible to see it all in so short a time. We tried though. Times Square, the art exhibit, Central Park, and Brooks Brothers were just a few of the places we saw Saturday.

Saturday night we met, and became close friends of Tommy. Tommy has to be the friendliest and best bum in the city. He took us on a tour of parts of New York City that even the Mayor doesn't know about. I'm happy for two reasons: one, that we ran into him, and two, that I still have my wallet.

Sunday, we decided, was the best day to take the subway, since, according to Tommy, most of the muggers and pickpockets take the day off to rest up for the Monday rush hour. From the subway, we took the famous Staten Island ferry to Staten Island. Yes, one can still ride across New York harbor for a nickel.

We took another ferry back to Manhatten and then the subway again to Greenwich Village. There is no place or time in Greenwich village like Washington Square on a Sunday afternoon. By a rough estimate, there are almost as many tourists as beatnick artists and musicians! I just couldn't resist the chance to have my profile done by an authentic Greenwich Village artist. Walter, as he called himself, didn't do a very good job with my nose, but he did try harder. We went back to the hotel and caught a bus to Washington, but not before almost an hour of singing folk songs and dancing the Polka, and not before vowing to someday return and renew some unusual but worthwhile friendships.

Our jet is rapidly approaching San Diego, much too rapidly.

It's not good to live in the past, but just for a few more hours I wish I could. Words will never fully express my gratitude, nor will they ever really express what it means to me to spend "TWO WEEKS IN WASHINGTON."

Cigarettes Bring In Less Monies

Only one tax failed to bring in more cash this year than last, State Controller Alan Cranston reported today — the cigarette tax.

The Controller's Preliminary Annual Report shows $74,308,541 was received from the tax in fiscal 1965-66 as compared to $74,514,997 the previous fiscal year.

Cranston said that, considering California's steady population increase, this indicates Californians are smoking less than before.

Everything else was up — Personal income tax receipts up 11 per cent; sales tax up 17 per cent; distilled spirits excise tax, up 5 per cent; bank and corporation franchise and income taxes, up 4 per cent; and so on.

Total General Fund receipts were up 11 per cent, and expenditures up 10 per cent, Cranston said.

Anchorage Alaska has an average temperature of 35 degrees.

A $13-million gain was posted in 1965 by the visitor industry, San Diego County's third largest source of basic income.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

Reddi Kilowatt is a cute little fellow dreamed up by the "Button-down-collar" boys who are trying to improve the San Diego Gas and Electric Companys' image.

We are not to think of our utility company as a powerful, rapacious monopoly — oh no. We are to be brainwashed into thinking of it as a cute little fellow with a 100 watt twinkle in his eye.

San Diego Gas and Electric Company management hopes that we will think his only function is to brighten our drab little lives while we "live better electrically." To the exhausted employees of SDG&E, Reddi Kilowatt looks more like Simon Legree.

IN 1950 SDG&E employed doubled, SDG&E still employes roughly 40 meter readers for the city. In 1966, sixteen years later the population almost doubled, SDG&E still employes 40 meter readers for the area.

In case anyone thinks that "automation" has helped the meter readers perform this miracle of productivity, let me enlighten you. The system, far from being changed to help the exhausted meter man on his way, has been made harder for him. The changes that were made, were made only to make it possible for machines to be used to bill the customer. By doing this, little Reddi Kilowatt (you remember — the little guy with the twinkle in his eye) was able to "fire" 93 girls from the accounting office.

This did not come about over night. Over a period of years, each days' work was made imperceptibiy longer. When a brave soul would complain to the supervisor about this, he would be accused of "not being able to cut the mustard." There would be the implied threat that it was time he was replaced. This can be quite a devastating threat to an employee with many years of seniority at stake.

Another method of silencing complaints is to say "So-and-So" did this section last month and didn't complain. What is not mentioned is that this month there are 25 to 50 new meters added that were not there last month. This ploy is used regularly — and successfully.

Actually, this system is not as profitable as the management would like it to be. Sick leave is more often used up. Efficiency goes down. An exhausted, employee is neither alert, dilligent nor patient with the public. Employee's morale keeps hitting new lows. Loyalty to the Company is vanishing as resentment increases.

It speaks well for the good will of the employees that they have not used the "slow-down" method utilized so successfully by some of the eastern unions. In fact, the SDG&E employees have agreed never to strike in order to safeguard the public interest. Apparently, the management of the San Diego Gas and Electric Company thinks that this agreement not to strike gives it the go-ahead to ride roughshod over the interests of the employee, the consummer and the stockholders.

Sincerely,

G. B.
